Letters to Star

on Referral of Feed
Tax Exemption Bill

Editor The Star: I'm getting calls for petitions to refer the Faubus Fowl Feed law. Besides, I want to circulate one myself. Please send me about 25.

Don't let 'em "bluff" you.

KARR SHANNON

Editor The Star: I have heard about your effort to keep the sales tax on feed, and want to say I would like to sign one of your petitions.

I don't see any sense in taking a tax off feed and leaving it on other things.

I am a farmer and buy some feed, and don't take any part in politics, but I think the people will vote for the tax to stay on. I think any raise in taxes should be another 1 or even 2 more sales tax pennies — then everyone pays his part. Sincerely

Editor The Star: Am writing you in regard to the tax you are fighting (to retain) and am sure glad there is someone who has guts enough to fight such an outrage.

I was in DeWitt yesterday and talked with some folks and they said if you could get someone to take one of your papers (petitions), around here almost everyone would sign it. Obligingly yours

They are Billie Dawn Franks, Pat McGill, Marilyn Edwards, and Ricky Forster.

During the afternoon session today, Tom Allen, publisher of the Brinkley Citizen, will address the group. Activities for the evening include a banquet, an opera "Street Scene," with Frances Greer as guest soloist, and entertainment at the mirror room.

Following the program Saturday morning, a luncheon will be given at the main dining room.

Criminal Cases to Be Heard in Court Monday

The April term of the Hempstead Circuit Court will open a two weeks session Monday, the first week being set aside for trials in criminal cases.

One or more of the cases filed as a result of the destruction by fire of the Massingill Rust Home are expected to be tried, along with three cases involving robbery and the same number of larceny charges. The misdemeanor appeal docket is set for Thursday of the first week. Civil trials will be held the second week.

The Miller Circuit Court closed out a three weeks session yesterday. Judge Lyle Brown estimated that this session set somewhat of a record for the number of cases tried. Twenty three civil and criminal cases were disposed of by court trial. Fourteen defendants in felony cases were given penitentiary sentences. Several misdemeanor cases were also tried, with drunken driving being predominant. The jury He ended then the 12 tensest years of his life—four spent on the bat

Chicago Tribune Editor Dies at The Age of 74

CHICAGO (AP) — Col. Robert Rutherford McCormick, 74, colorful editor and publisher of the Chicago Tribune, died early today.

He had been in failing health for several years but remained active in his work until early last month.

Death came at his farm home west of Chicago at 2:47 a. m.

McCormick, who gained the title of colonel from World War I service, was the key man in a publishing organization which owns the newspapers with the largest circulations in the United States, the Chicago Tribune and the New York Daily News.

He stepped into an executive post at the Tribune in 1911, when it had a daily circulation of about 200,000. Last September the Tribune had daily circulation of 892,058 and a Sunday circulation of 1,392,384.

McCormick had been hospitalized several times in recent years. He had pneumonia in April 1953 after returning from a trip to Europe. Later the same year he was troubled by erysipelas.

On Jan. 19, he underwent an abdominal operation to correct adhesions and a bladder and liver condition. He left the hospital seven days later and went to Florida.

He returned to Chicago March 10, spent 10 days under observation in a hospital and then went to his farm, Cantigny, near Wheaton, 20 miles west of Chicago.

He had a long and active career. He shaped the policies of the Tribune, largest standardized newspaper in this country, which each day proclaims itself on Page 1 as "the world's greatest newspaper."

The Tribune fought federal prohibition, ferreted out medical quacks, argued against foreign involvements and opposed entry of the United States into World War II right up to Pearl Harbor.

It was a constant critic of the Democratic administrations of Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman — and it brandished its broadsword at many Republicans too.

The 6-foot-4 colonel had a knack for capsizing his views in succinct statements, such as this one, made on his return from a 1948 visit to Europe:

"American public opinion is not represented by the striped pants boys."

Jelke Convicted a Second Time

NEW YORK (AP) — Minot F. (Mickey) Jelke, handsome young oiled-margarine heir, was convicted for the second time on a charge of marriage to be seen.

He could draw up to 40 years in prison. Sentencing was set for April 28. Two years ago he was sentenced to three to six years on his first conviction, which was reversed on appeal.

Jelke was sentenced in $45,000 bail after the jury of 10 men and two women reported its guilty verdict at 1:16 a. m. after more than 10 hours deliberation.

Spring Hill Holding Pre-Easter Services

Pre-Easter service is now in progress at the Spring Hill Methodist Church, Palm Sunday through Good Friday. The Rev. Mr. Joe Hunter will bring the message each night at 7:30, according to Claude Clark, pastor.

Few Men Know the Price of War Better Than Gen. Bradley Who Directed European Fight

NEW YORK (AP) — Live holds a busy scrutiny today for Omar Nelson Bradley, who nearly ten years ago led American ground forces to victory in Europe.

At 62 the graying general of the Army, no longer assigned to active duty but still available to a bugle call, is holding down more jobs than at any time in his career.

The erosion of time has touched "Brad" but lightly. He is as erect as ever. He weighs 178 pounds, only five more than when he left West Point in 1915.

"But my wife, Mary, says I can't brag about that — the weight isn't in the same places," he said cheerfully.

The five star general stepped down as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff in August, 1953. He ended then the 12 tensest years of his life—four spent on the bat chefs of Staff in August, 1953. "I was glad to get out from un-

Draft to Take 135 in May

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — They May draft call lists a quota of 135 men for Arkansas. This compares with a May, 1954 call of 288, and the April call for this year of 108.

Col. Fred M. Croome, state director of selective service, said about 210 men will be ordered for induction to fill the May quota.

West Lashes Soviet Berlin Blockade

By JOSEPH FLEMING

BERLIN (UPI) — The Western Allies charged today that the Soviet-imposed economic blockade of West Berlin was "politically inspired" and demanded that the "exorbitant" and "abnormal" road tax on trucks entering the city be lifted immediately.

The Western demand was contained in separate but identically worded notes from the high commissioners of the United States, Britain and France to Soviet High Commissioner G. M. Pushkin in Bonn.

They asked that the Soviets take steps to have the Communists abolish the taxes on the vital truck traffic which supplies the free world outpost deep in the Soviet zone, since it "cannot be justified purely on economic grounds."

To ruin it in the Communists invoked their old slow down tactics before the blockade began at midnight. They held up great lines of trucks at both ends of the 110-mile lifeline until the deadline passed and they could begin collecting their tribute.

He declined further comment.

Union officials were not reachable here for comment, but the waterbury (Conn.) Republican quoted union official Clifford Owens as saying negotiations broke down 10 minutes before midnight.

Owens is president of the union's Local 45 in one of the three U.S. Rubber plants in Naugatuck, Conn., where 8,000 workers were in

Other U.S. rubber plants are at Detroit; Chicopee Falls, Mass.; Fau Claire, Wis.; Philadelphia; Los Angeles; Mishawaka, Ind.; Providence, R. I.; Indianapolis; Passaic, N. J.; Woonsocket, R. I.; North Bergen, N. J.; Bristol, R. I.; Washington, Ind.; Fort Wayne, Ind.; Chicago; and Milan, Tenn.

The union and U.S. Rubber signed a wage pact last Aug. 31 providing a 6½-cent hourly raise. At that time the union said the agreement boosted the average pay in U.S. Rubber plants to $1.98½ an hour.

Three employees of Stassen's Foreign Operations Administration were under instructions from Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) to be on hand for closed-door questioning by the subcommittee's staff counsel.

But advance word from an FOA spokesman was that the employees wouldn't show up. Stassen himself had indicated as much late yesterday.

At issue was whether subcommittee staff investigators could question employees of the FOA in private interviews without having Stassen or lawyer for the foreign aid agency present.

In effect, the subcommittee said yes and Stassen said no.

The dispute arose as an unexpected offshoot of an inquiry into the FOA's handling of bids for the construction of a grain storage plant in Pakistan under the foreign aid program.

Stassen said he or any employee of the FOA would meet with the subcommittee or its chairman at any time.

He added, however, that "it does not appear fair or reasonable or wise for individual members of the staff of the committee to be permitted to summon individual employees of FOA without any committee members present and without any counsel of his choice" present.

Another highly placed senator put it more directly. This senator did not want to be named but he said that was the nature of the answer when a question was raised about the Kremlin's likely position as to the Nationalist-held Chinese coastal islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

The United States is committed to help defend Chiang Kai-shek's stronghold on Formosa but the administration has kept silent as to any defense of the outpost is-skeletal.

Atomic energy was a government monopoly from the middle of World War II until late last year. Then the new law was written, permitting private capital to make use of atomic energy.

The Atomic Energy Commission, however, retains authority:

1. Over who gets a license.

2. What portions of hitherto secret information necessary to build and operate a reactor shall be declassified.

3. Who gets "limited access" clearance necessary to receive this information.

4. To release fissionable material that will originally fuel the privately owned reactors, fix the price, of any plutonium the government later buys from private industry.

Any one of these could be a source of friction between the government and the private operator. For instance, in that extraor-narily complicated area of declassifying information.

Smith added it was emphasized at the White House that the Oriental mind is unpredictable and therefore there is no real assurance as to what may happen even against Soviet wishes.

Smith said he did not want to try to quote the President. But he said his understanding is that the administration believes Moscow is likely to clamp the brakes on any Red Chinese moves that might spread into something much bigger.

The New Jersey lawmaker, second ranking Republican on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the White House visitors came away "reassured." He said there was "feeling there will be no attack now."

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, said "no commitments were asked and none given" by his party members.

James E. Little, a Memphis insurance man, filed the suit against B. Frank Williams of Oscoda, Ark. Little said he was a member of a syndicate which planned to buy the Last Frontier Hotel at Las Vegas, Nev. He said Williams, identified as a principal stockholder in Citizens Bank of Jonesboro, Ark., was handling financial arrangements last May.

In the suit Little charges that a new corporation was formed and he did not receive any stock and has been unable to get an accounting for Williams.

Little asked the court to declare him a constructive trustee of 20 per cent of the stock allegedly purchased or award him $500,000 if Williams has disposed of the stock.

35,000 Rubber Workers Go Out on Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Some 35,000 CIO rubber workers struck at midnight last night against the 18 plants of the U. S. rubber Co., in a dispute over terms of a master contract. Wages were not an issue.

The company and the CIO United Rubber Workers had been negotiating here for a new contract covering hours, working standards and holidays. The old contract expired at midnight.

E. M. Cushing, in charge of company negotiations, said early today, "It all happened suddenly." He declined further comment.

Union officials were not reachable here for comment, but the waterbury (Conn.) Republican quoted union official Clifford Owens as saying negotiations broke down 10 minutes before midnight.

But advance word from an FOA spokesman was that the employees wouldn't show up. Stassen himself had indicated as much late yesterday.

None of the leaders of a group organized to fight Washburn's campaign has been publicly quoted as saying cotton products had been exempted from the two per cent tax in that fashion.

Faith will overcome the most miserable circumstances

Faith

on of man; whenever I doubt of life I think of Thee." So wrote
George Matheson in his blindness.
Whenever you and I doubt either God or man, we would do well to think of Jesus. His cross is a symbol of what God is and what we may become. The proud Roman at the foot of the cross said, "This man was the son of God."
Jesus was supremely a man of faith. He had great faith in both God and man. We have faith in God largely because we must have Him. We are not sufficient unto ourselves. Do you have faith? Life becomes a radiant thing for people of faith, since they see so much deeper into the secrets of life. The universe opens its heart to souls; latent powers blossom in the presence of fidelity; young children and wise old age give themselves with abandon to those who offer confidence. God waits to share His blessings on men who can be trusted. Of the Pilgrims of yesterday, guided by the Divine, it was said, "They were men of faith and very sure of God." Are you sure of God?
